"Accurate" summary of what you should do with your hunting rifles.

By Alfred

I like Craig Boddington. As a member of Safari Club International I have read many of his articles, and this book did not disappointed me at all.

You will find many practical guidelines to maximize your beloved tool for the different types of hunting that you will pursue: from an accurate description of a hunting rifle, to actions to chose, stocks, sights, cleaning, and troubleshooting accuracy. Additionaly you may also capitalize good advises regarding mounting scopes, bedding and sighting. All this in plain and easy to read English.

You may also like his book "How to shoot a Rifle Accurately Under Hunting Conditions.

In both of them, Craig puts a lot of his immense experience in hunting.

Just ok

By Bob

Just OK. It had a few good ideas, but mostly just the author reminiscing what he has done over the years to his guns.
