"Mom loved to write to my sister and me," H. Jackson Brown writes. "They began when I was an eight-year old camper away from home for the first time. When I opened Mom's letter, I would always read the P.S. first. I just couldn't wait to discover what revelations, humor, observations, admonitions, and encouragement she wanted to share with me."

"No matter how hard you hug your money, it never hugs you back," says one P.S. "Middle age is when you have two choices and you choose the one that gets you home earlier," says another.

Jack Brown's mother shared valuable advice with him about the issues of wisdom, hope, humor, and faith. "Although some were written more than thirty years ago," Brown says, "they still run with truth and insight."

Great Read!

By avataress

Great Read as are Life's Little Instruction Book and Life's Little Instruction Book II. I contacted H. Jackson brown to alert him that his tips had reached the Supreme Court but he did not respond; my correspondence to him was never returned to me as undeliverable so I can only assume that for whatever reason he chose not to take the time to respond. Bummer!

Emotional ties

So I'm extremely biased about this book because my mom gave it to me decades ago when I graduated from college and moved more than 2300 miles away. I've kept it with me through 6 subsequent moves and keep it on my desk. Recently my friend lost her mom and I bought her this book and she loves many of the quotes. It's a beautiful book that truly connects with you.
