Designed to be accessible to students with varied backgrounds (and none) in the subject, these texts provide thought-provoking analyses to stimulate engagement and response, and to lead students away from narrative. They focus upon the defining issues of the IB syllabus, with clear explanations of essential concepts and controlled vocabulary (with glossaries) to build confidence in the use of the technical terms of history. With a number system for instant reference in class and a format designed for revision, extensive bibliographies and subject specific help for essay writing, they provide a bridge between high school and university studies.
